MENTORSHIP PROGRAM LAUNCH

(Excerpt from the Governor General's blog, published on www.citizenvoices.gg.ca)

They are off! On June 5, in Toronto, our team of 50 was launched. 25 young Canadians were paired with 25 members of the Order of Canada. You could feel the energy in the room: so much enthusiasm, generosity and excitement! I loved to see how well everyone got along and how they were so keen to begin the discussions and the mentoring process. Mentors and mentorees alike talked about this unique experience which will make such a difference in their lives and broaden their horizons so much.

The young Canadians chosen, in large part by Youth in Motion, all share a deep commitment to their communities, a will to excel, boundless energy and ideas, and a desire to get the most out of this partnership with their mentors, who have so much to share with them. The mentors get to discover the youthful enthusiasm of their charges; they are already impressed with what they have accomplished so far and their desire to make a difference in the world. The partnerships are remarkable, and the friendships are bound to last a lifetime, as evidenced by the participants' profiles. These happy few share their discussions, aspirations and goals on www.citizenvoices.gg.ca. You will surely find it a source of inspiration.

News from the Chancellery of Honours

It has become a tradition for the governor general to announce new appointments to the Order of Canada at the start of the new year and close to Canada Day, (See page 8).

As a member of the Order, you may have been surprised the first time you heard that you were the recipient of this honour, and wondered how individuals are appointed.

The process starts when the Chancellery receives a nomination from a person or a group who feels that the nominated individual might be a worthy candidate. On average, the Chancellery receives over 1 000 nominations per year. Researchers at the Chancellery will then prepare files for nominations that meet the criteria for eligibility. Because of the depth of the research and the many consultations, it could take some time before the file is complete and submitted to the Advisory Council of the Order of Canada, a duly constituted and independent council chaired by the Chief Justice of Canada.

The Advisory Council, which meets twice a year, reviews all nominations. A vote is held on each file and there must be a majority of votes for the candidate to be appointed to the Order. A unanimous vote is not required. The chair does not vote nor take a position for or against nominations, except in the rare occurrence of a tied vote.

The Chancellery of Honours keeps all nominations confidential to respect privacy and to avoid disappointment if the nominee is not selected. All deliberations of the Advisory Council for the Order of Canada, as well as for any Canadian honour, are confidential.

By accepting this honour, you have joined the more than 5 500 recipients of the Order since its creation in 1967. If you know of other great Canadians who exemplify the motto, "They desire a better country", why not nominate them? Nomination forms are available on our Web site at www.gg.ca, or you can contact the Chancellery of Honours at 1-800-465-6890.

"Keep in touch!"

Since launching the newsletter, we have heard from many members. You have shared your news and your views with us and we thank you.

There are now more than 3 200 living Members in the Order and, as the community grows, it becomes a challenge to keep track of everyone's current contact information. At the same time, we are also updating our databases to include e-mail addresses and may soon be able to send news via e-mail for those of you who prefer this method of communication.

We invite you to keep in touch and send us your contact information when there are changes. Should you wish to provide your e-mail address, you may do so at ocpub@gg.ca. You may also reach us by mail. Simply address your letters to Order of Canada news at the Chancellery of Honours.
